BOARD OF SCHOOL DIRECTORS

Because of the wisdom and understanding displayed by the Board of School Directors in guiding us through our high school careers, the students of East McKeesport wish to pay tribute to these outstanding citizens. We appreciate the time and effort these men have given so freely to provide us with an adequate educational program. The Board of School Directors can be assured we are all proud of the great service it has rendered to the school and the community.

In business session

Mr. J. P. Runk, our supervising principal, is a citizen of credit and renown. He has been a true friend and adviser to us for many years. He has laid for each of us a firm foundation on which we may build a more intelligent future to cope with this scientific world.

We, the class of 1948, wish to extend our appreciation to Mr. Runk for his assistance, patience, humor; and for these qualities he will always be remembered.

J. P. Runk, Supervising Principal; University of Pittsburgh, B.S., M.Ed.

ADMINISTRATION

Anyone who enters our school realizes the wonderful job being done by our principal, Mrs. Josephine Muir. She has been one of our guiding influences since we entered. Because of her willingness to help us in solving problems, the class of '48 will always be grateful to her.

Miss Mildred Gillis, secretary to the administrative staff, is efficient, co-operative, and helpful. All these describe what Miss Gillis is to the class of '48. Her willingness to help us in any way possible will never be forgotten.

Josephine M. Muir, Assistant Supervising Principal and High School Principal; Simmons College, Pennsylvania College for Women, A.B.; University of Pittsburgh, M.Ed.

Mildred Gillis, Secretary to the Administrative Staff

PRESS CLUB

Surveying their handiwork

The JUN-SEN NEWS, which is written and duplicated by students from the high school, has contributed much in the form of journalistic training for its staff members. Many times hidden talent has been discovered when a student became interested in the different staffs. The paper also contributes the important news to students in the school.

Mrs. Helen Swauger, who is the head adviser, and all of the staff editors are proud of the fact that the JUN-SEN NEWS received second place awards again this year in the Pennsylvania School Press Association contest and in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association contest.

The Press Club also takes its place in other school activities. The club sponsored the first dance, a Football Victory Dance.

The class of '48, under the direction of Mrs. Jane Taylor and Miss Garnet Grove, presented "Girl Shy" in April, 1947.

Tom Arsdale, so-o-o girl shy, decides with persuasion from his roommate, Oke, to meet a nice girl—Babs Sanford, perhaps. Babs, with the aid of the cleaning lady Birdie, has decided to do something about Tom's shyness. Then Tom's father appears with a girl from home. Babs is put on the spot and the mixup grows. With the help of Alfred, the poet, and the joyful antics of Asma, the mixup finally gets straightened out with a happy ending.

LIBRARY CLUB

One of the busiest organizations in the school is the Library Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Naomi Sayers. This year a total of fourteen girls offered their services and worked faithfully to improve the efficiency of the library. An addition of one hundred and thirty books this year greatly increased the usefulness of the library to students and teachers.

The functions of the club include the cataloging and filing of cards, taking inventory, shelf-reading, housekeeping the library, repairing of books, increasing circulation among the students, and general work about the library.

The regular meetings were held the first and third Thursdays of the month in the library at 3:40 P.M. Time out was taken by the members of the club for fun and fellowship. These good times were in the form of skating and bowling parties, spaghetti dinners, and planning school dances and assemblies.

BAND

The band, under our new director, Mr. Richard Schumann, is composed of forty-five members who attend pre-school rehearsal each morning. The organization offered special attractions at the football games this year with three charming majorettes, Audrey Hilt, Audrey Farmer, Betty Brown, and the drum major, Ted Gida, leading the group in many unique formations. A new sensation, little Judy Sakala, won the hearts of the fans and proved her efficiency with the baton as she performed at several of the games. Other band appearances were in assemblies, at P. T. A., and at the Spring Music Festival.

A big candle for the Christmas dance

Hot dogs for the football game

The Alpha Tri-Hi-Y, under the supervision of Miss Ruth Houser, sponsored various activities this year. During the football season the club sold refreshments to raise funds. The annual Christmas dance was a big feature, with the "Dreamers Band" furnishing the music. The Junior and Senior Tri-Hi-Y Clubs had a joint Hallowe'en Party in October. Apple dunking took the spotlight. The seniors also had a skating party and other social events.

One of the most active groups in the school was the Beta Tri-Hi-Y, under the supervision of Mrs. Jane Brown. By selling refreshments at football games, the girls built up a financial reserve. A Hallowe'en Party was held at which prizes were awarded for several costumes. During Christmas, the group attended a candlelight service with the Senior Tri-Hi-Y. After the initiation, an exchange party added an appropriate social time. By preparing a basket for a needy family, the girls took the Christmas spirit to heart.

The tenth grade Tri-Hi-Y, with Miss Elizabeth Condron as leader, has proved itself a worthy organization by its project—cleaning, painting, and maintaining the first-floor girls' room. Caroling and giving a play in assembly were Christmas activities for the girls and it was they who were responsible for the success of the Leap Year dance. In addition, the girls initiated the ninth grade Tri-Hi-Y and acted as their big sisters.

The ninth grade Tri-Hi-Y, under the direction of Miss Frances Burke, was a progressive group. The girls have completed two main projects, painting the third floor girls' room and sending food and other essentials to needy foreign families. Other activities were selling hot dogs and cokes during football season, a tour of Pittsburgh, a Hallowe'en Party, and skating, swimming and bowling parties. The activities for the year ended with a scavenger hunt and a farewell party.

The senior Hi-Y spent an eventful year under the leadership of Mr. Merlyn Jones. Two representatives, were sent to the Hi-Y Conference at Indiana. The Hi-Y was a serious group but its members also had good times. Whether swimming at the Y., sponsoring a school dance, or presenting a skit in assembly, the boys had fun.

The junior Hi-Y, under the direction of Mr. Harold Arnold, was organized to promote better conduct and sportsmanship, to aid in school projects, and to provide worthwhile entertainment. A sleigh ride in January was the first activity for the year. A ping-pong tournament and movies provided entertainment at the meetings.

With the closing of the football season, our musical thoughts turned from the band, with its triumphant marches, to the orchestra, with its singing strings. The orchestra consisted of approximately twenty-five musicians who rehearsed appropriate music for the junior class play and the Spring Music Festival. The final appearance of the orchestra was at Commencement exercises when, to the dignified strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," the seniors marched to receive their diplomas.

FOOTBALL

East McKeesport's football team, under the leadership of its new coach, Mr. William Meise, and Mr. Merlyn Jones, had another successful season. After returning from hard pre-season training at Camp Pleasant, the team had an undefeated, but once-tied season. East won all the Class B games except the last in which they were held to a 6-6 tie by East Pittsburgh.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

The 1947-48 varsity quintet, under the coaching of Mr. William Meise, ran up an impressive string of victories while playing fast, clean basketball. The seniors included sharpshooting Mel Popovich and playmaker Joe Maurizi, with Roland Kirk proving a capable substitute and Wally Bruce falling temporarily to the injured list. Rounding out the starting five were juniors Pete Radulovic and Tom Craig, and sophomore Tom March. Playing in a strong Section 17, the Hilltoppers provided the fans with many thrills.

ROW 2: Mr. Meise, Joseph Maurizi, Thomas March, Melvin Popovich, Joseph Hondal.

ROW 3: Joseph Stark, Wallace Bruce, Thomas Craig, Peter Radulovic, Roland Kirk.

RESERVE BASKETBALL

The Hilltop reserves, coached by Mr. William Meise, played a highly spirited, winning brand of ball throughout the season. While winning most of their games, they dropped several one-point margins. Composed of sophomores and juniors, the reserves should add great strength to the varsity next season.

CHEERLEADERS

At the start of the 1947-1948 season, four new cheerleaders, Adrienne Curry, Dolores Furlong, Shirley Larson, and Charlotte Rowley, joined Marion Basel and Norma Crimmel in cheering the boys to victory. Their lusty cheers were heard near and far at the games. Ruth Losteter and Donna Skender were chosen to replace the senior cheerleaders.

The junior varsity basketball team had supporting them four capable cheerleaders, Marlene Blend, Margaret George, Grace Lorentz, and Dolores O'Neill.

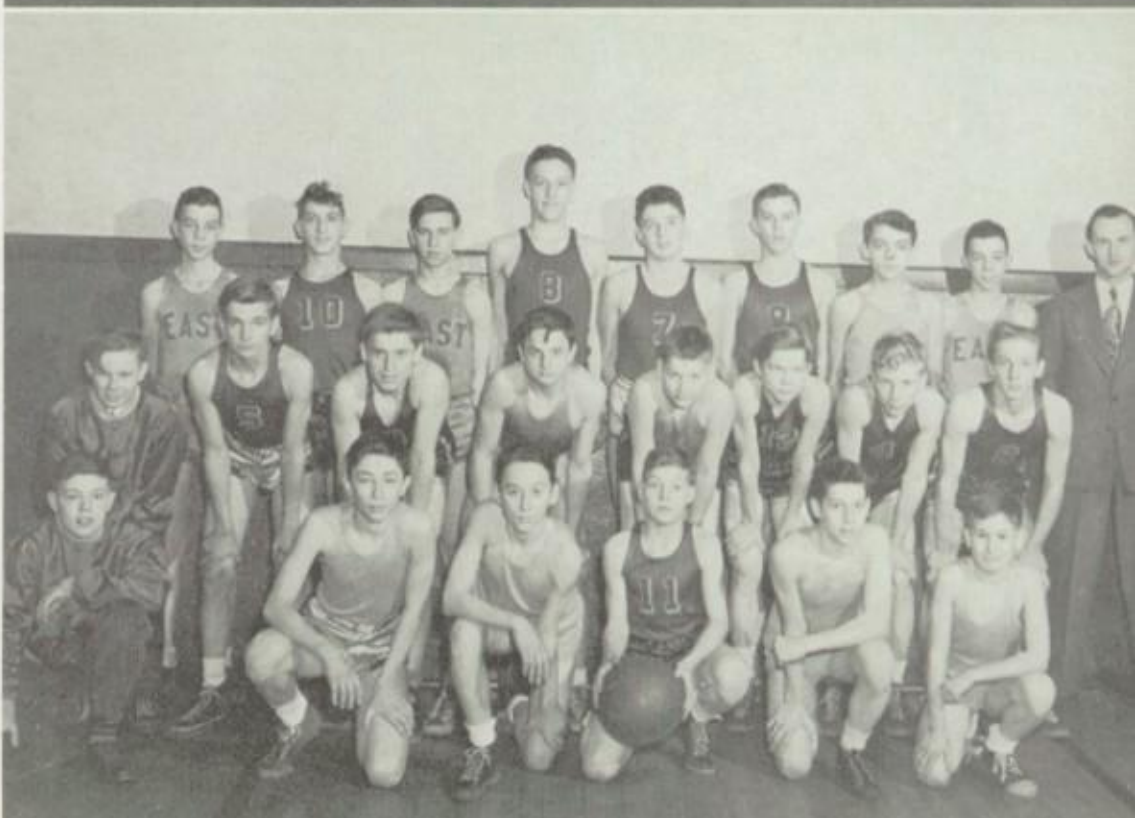

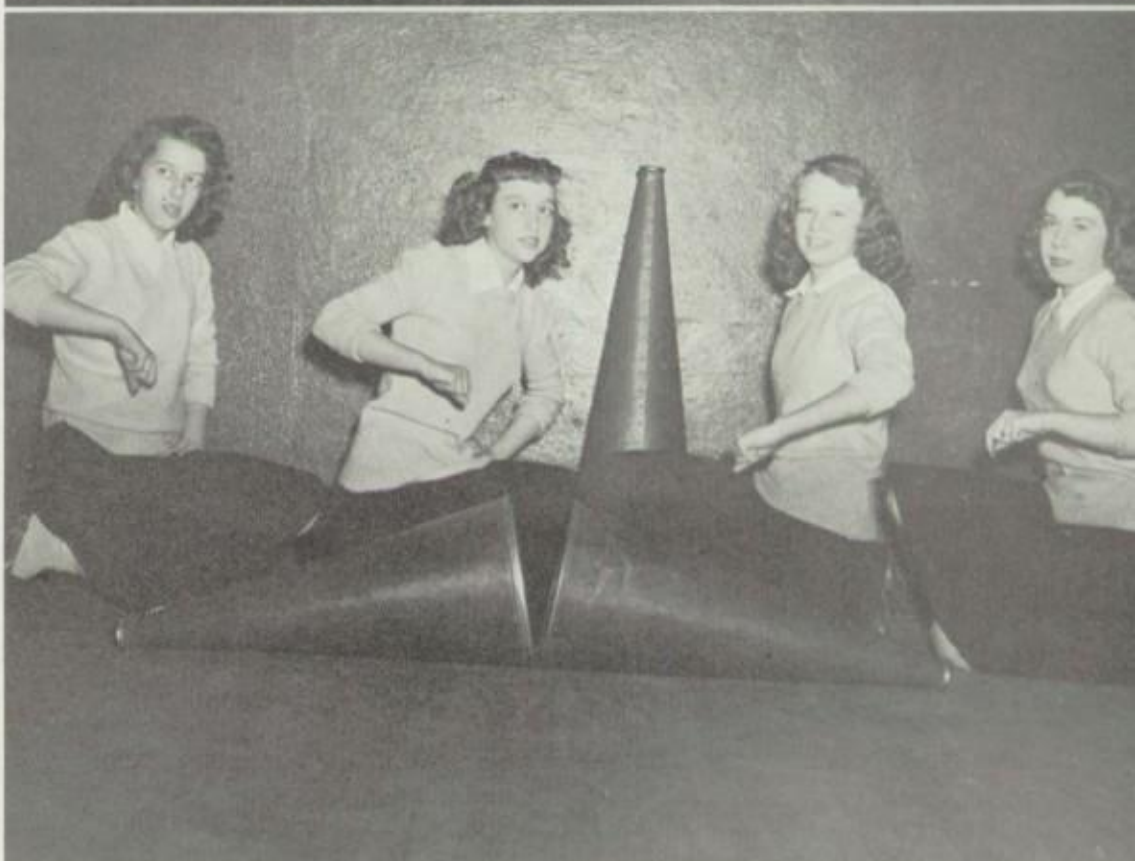

Marlene Blend, Margaret George, Dolores O'Neill, Grace Lorentz.

JUNIOR HIGH BASKETBALL

The Junior High basketball team, composed of seventh, eighth, and ninth graders, was coached by Mr. Merlyn C. Jones. After several weeks of practice, the team was rounded into shape, and, with a will to win, started the season with a victory. The determination and spirit of the Junior High has been a threat to any opponent. There will be many holdovers from the juniors joining the varsity ranks. We are certain that these boys will carry on the coming basketball seasons with victories.
